Discussion:

1. Introduction

Vincent Fisher provided an overview of the agenda, and a description of the purpose of the meeting.
Crystal Wilson provided previous meeting minute highlights from February 2017.

2. Kim Schauder provided an overall project update, northbound construction update and distributed the 2017 I-39/90 construction flyer. Stateline bridge replacement is under construction, and later this fall there will be work in the Northern part of the south segment and southern part of Janesville which is part of the 40 million Fast Lane grant from the federal government. WisDOT is also waiting to see how the project may be impact by the new State transportation budget. The new Secretary is working to push for the I39/90 projects to continue as scheduled.
3. Michele commented about what the priorities are for the Rock County Stakeholder meetings and how the committee is to continue forward with sustained effort. Michele introduced speaker Edward Lee from Urban League of Greater Madison, who was invited to share different resource they have available to support for the Verona Road stakeholder meetings managed by Construction Workforce Diversity Alliance (CWDA).
4. Edward Lee shared that CWDA has been around since 2003, and that the purpose of the organization was to increase recruitment, training, and helping minorities and women of color to enter the construction trades. CWDA was original founded with all volunteer networks when it was previously found when a contractor was denied a contract due to them not meeting the affirmative action requirements. Lee shared that the goal is for industry apprenticeship programs, non-profit, government and state organizations to help others gain access to jobs and apprenticeships. CWDA was absorbed under Construction Training Inc. in 2010, which was a nonprofit and operated an apprenticeship readiness program called the Start Program. Last year it was acquired by Urban League of Greater Madison due to the director retiring. The vision of CWDA is to provide a one-stop shop for any and everything going on with workforce development and diversity going on in the construction industry. CWDA would like to be a central hub for contractors, industry, and job seekers or potential job seekers to find information of workforce opportunities.

- a. Ed Lee shared that CWDA hosts monthly networking meetings at Madison technical college. CWDA also hosts an annual meeting with a much larger group of stakeholders in the construction industry to provide an opportunity for attendees to learn about the various community resources that are available. CHWA has 90 minute session overview sessions at the job center for whomever is interested in pursuing apprenticeship. Different organizations take turns hosting these meetings with no direct financial support for CWDA. Urban League has also invested some of their operating revenue to support CWDA's efforts. The Urban League currently has their own construction trade training and meetings that they manage.
 - b. Ed Lee shared that CWDA is in the process of building and populating a website which will have a calendar of events of the opportunities happening in the area. The website allows anyone to add an event to the calendar. Contractor's participation is important because Dane County contractors with awarded contracts are able to gain credit for Good Faith Effort (GFE) on project bids for participating with CWDA. The website also has a directory of apprentice contacts, readiness programs, and provides and distributes program updates.
 - c. Lorie Miller mentioned that Forward Services can assist with arranging to have speakers and networking opportunities at monthly CWDA meetings as well.
 - d. Ed Lee shared that J.H. Findorff & Son, Inc. is a company that speaks regularly about hiring opportunities on projects for the upcoming season. This provides an opportunity for the different organizations to gain a better understand of upcoming hiring opportunities. Lee shared that currently CWDA is solely located in Dane County but have had conversations in the past about having presence in other regions in Wisconsin.
 - e. Ed Lee shared that the Dane County Job Center and DWD are involved in the job development efforts. CWDA has a representative from the DWD board, hosts 5 to 6 community based training programs, supports Operation Fresh Start, YWCA, Construct U Latino Academy, Workforce Development, and Forward Services at the Milwaukee College campus.
 - f. Michele Carter stated that this committee needs to function as a one stop shop, pulling all the resources that we already have available, and providing good leadership together in one place. She emphasized that his committee's desire is to have a lasting presence and impact in Rock County as CWDA has done in Dane County.
5. Dan Burke shared that children are losing over 12 years of their productive career life because the community as a whole isn't involved with good career counseling and skills training. Dan said that he has worked for multiple firms (Zenith Tech, Payne & Dolan, Lunda, and JP Cullen) for over 10 years. He explained that the community isn't improving the gaps from school to work, and that we need to get youth involved at a young age in job skills trainings. The Laborer Union 464 has a training center available to provide students with hands on experience and to take them out to the field. Burke said that Tech Ed classes in schools or colleges are important, and that the industry needs to bring young people to the table to get them started and motivated, and show them how important and easy it is to get involved in the trades.

6. Edward Lee shared that the Urban League has a 7-week full-time foundation construction skilled training program. Students learn basic hand and power tools, OSHA 10 skills, and complete 90 hours of working on live construction sites under the direction of Operation Fresh Start, a partner of the Urban League
7. Michele Carter stated that it is a goal of the committee to bring people together, and the Hwy 41 mega highway project was influential in engaging the local tribes to gain labor and business development opportunities on the project. WisDOT worked to keep the dialogue open with the tribe contacts and find solutions to bring more local community organizations and people to the table to help with growth and networking.

Wisconsin Department of Transportation

8. Ed Lee shared that crucial to have community organization commit to the bigger picture, and have union and non-union organizations and firms share resources and encourage other organizations to become involved so they too can see the big picture.
9. Michele Carter: This committee has struggled with participation in the stakeholder meetings in Rock County. With the existing dedicated resources in place she encouraged the committee to reach out to municipalities involved on projects after WisDOT is no longer here. The committee needs to make it a priority and plan to be sure we are making connections in the community.
10. Michele Carter shared the Notice of Requirement for Affirmative action to ensure equal employment opportunity and Executive Order 11246 FHWA 1273.
11. Jenna Fogarty spoke about the 2015 Census Bureau data for Rock County (Handout).
12. Michele shared a list of prime contractors who worked in this area on I-39/90 and Verona Road Mega Projects.
13. The Stakeholders indicate there was no interest in having a follow up phone call if stakeholders had questions about the interactive reports provided. They would reach out directly to Michele's team.
14. Calendar of Events: Madison Region Economic Development and Diversity Conference May 11, 2017 in Madison. The WisDOT TrANS program is having a networking event May 17, 2017 at the Dane County Job Center.

Goals for female participation for each trade: 6.9%

These goals are applicable to all the contractor's construction work, (whether or not it is federal or federally assisted), performed in the covered area. If the contractor performs construction work in the geographical area located outside of the covered area, it shall apply the goals established for such geographical area where the work is actually performed. With regard to this second area, the contractor also is subject to the goals for both its federally involved and nonfederally involved construction.

The contractor's compliance with the Executive Order and the Regulations in 41 CFR Part 60-4 shall be based on its implementation of the Equal Opportunity Clause, specific affirmative action obligations required by the specifications set forth in 41 CFR 60-4.3(a), and its efforts to meet the goals. The hours of minority and female employment and training must be substantially uniform throughout the length of the contract, and in each trade, and the contractor shall make a good faith effort to employ minorities and women evenly on each of its projects. The transfer of minority or female employees or trainees from contractor to contractor or from project to project for the sole purpose of meeting the contractor's goals shall be a violation of the contract, the Executive Order and the Regulations in 41 CFR Part 60-4. Compliance with the goals will be measured against the total work hours performed.

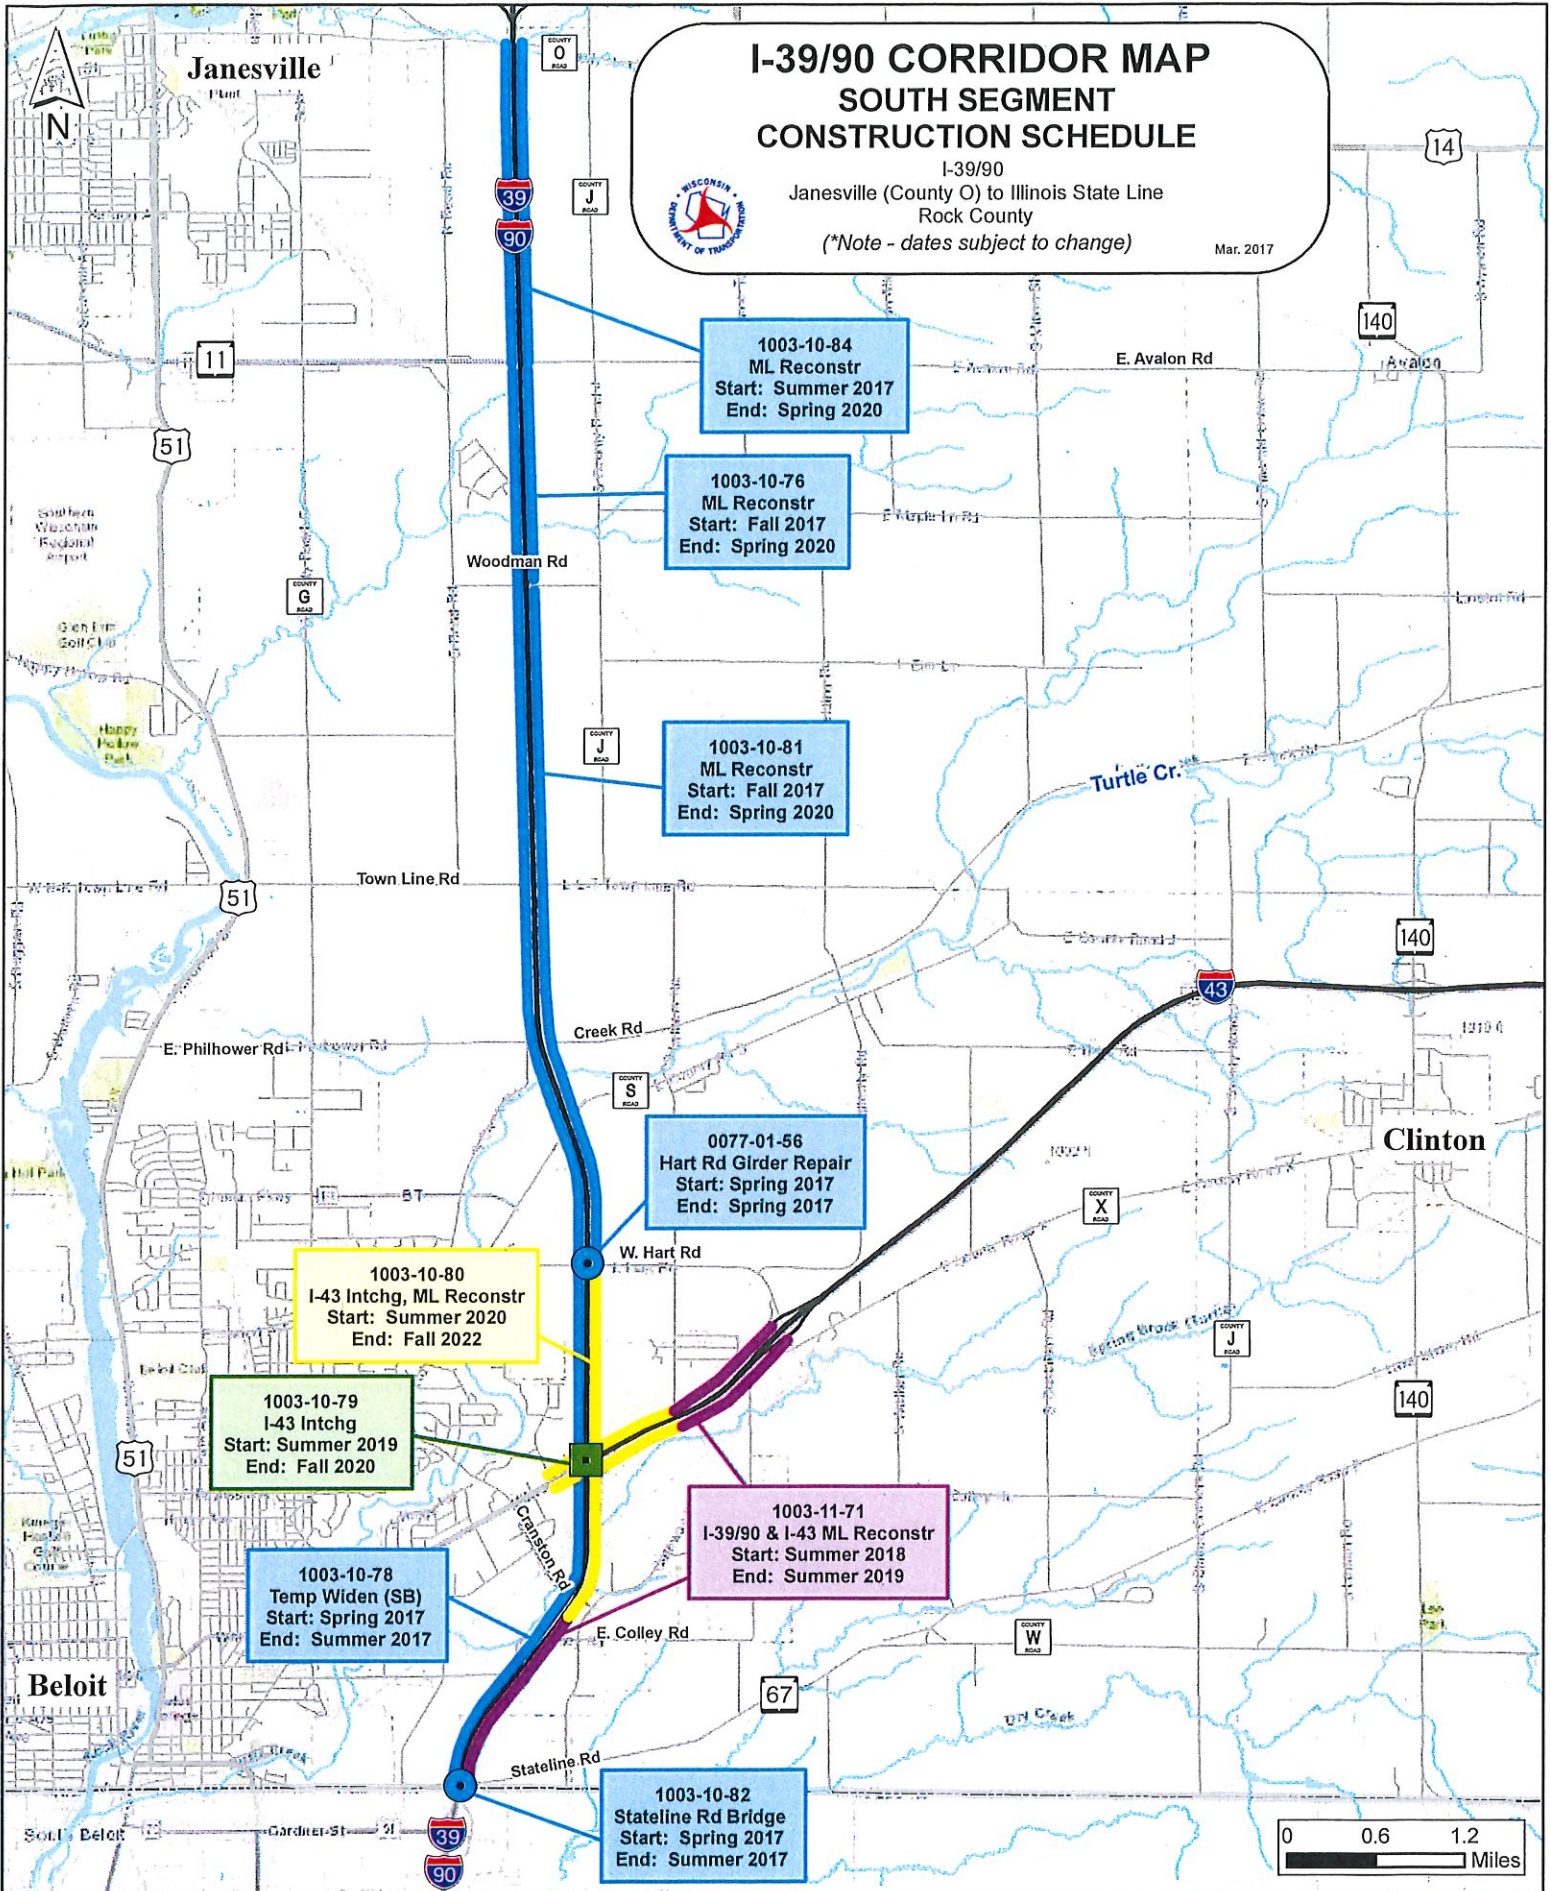

3. The contractor shall provide written notification to the Director of the Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs within ten (10) working days of award of any construction subcontract in excess of $10,000.00 at any tier for construction work under the contract resulting from this solicitation. Strategic Planning Wrap-Up - Baseline Data Discussion

Potential Number of Hires based on WisDOT Contract Opportunity

Anticipated new hires were calculated using the following assertions:

- Mega or high profile projects are economic development opportunities; thus, generators for new entrants to the workforce
- Labor accounts for 20% of the contract cost
- Prime contractors maintain 40% of their workforce from year to year; static workforce must be accounted for
- Full time employment for a seasonal road construction worker is between 1700 and 1850 hours per year.
- Most Wisconsin-based contractors are signatory to a union
