Multiple road closures due to flooding in Northeast Wisconsin

Motorists are urged to avoid the affected areas and use the recommended alternate routes.

(Green Bay, WI) This is an immediate traffic alert. Multiple highways in Outagamie, Shawano and Waupaca counties remain closed in both directions due to flooding. Flood waters can cover roadways quickly and recede quickly. Motorists can check 511wi.gov to see real-time flooding impacts.

The timeline for reopening these roads remains unknown, as river levels are still cresting, and additional rain is forecast through the weekend. Many roadways throughout the region are impacted by these peak river levels and when the rivers recede. We are closely monitoring the roadways and river levels and will reopen them as soon as it is safe to do so.

DRIVER SAFETY INFORMATION

- Please make sure you have the flooding tab clicked on the 511 map to view all locations of flooding.
- Never attempt to cross a water-covered road. Just 12 inches of moving water can sweep a vehicle off the road.
- Do not ignore barricades or road closure signs.

- Flash flooding can occur suddenly anywhere in the area.
- Always check current road conditions before traveling:
- Visit <http://511wi.gov> for the latest weather and road alerts.
- Motorists should plan extra time for travel, use designated alternate routes, and exercise extreme caution in low-lying areas. Conditions may change rapidly.

For the latest updates, monitor <http://511wi.gov>. Stay safe and drive smart — when in doubt, turn around and find another way.

For real-time information, please check the 511 Wisconsin website at <https://511wi.gov/> or call 511. Local media also will have important travel information. Your safety is paramount, and your cooperation during this challenging weather event is greatly appreciated.
